

Blanche Eudell Biggs

April 7, 2017

Blanche Eudell Biggs passed away peacefully in San Saba, Tx, on April 7, 2017 at the age of 88.

She was born on October 8, 1928 to Alvie Jim and Nina Lora (Huges) Cook. Blanche was preceded in death by her husband, James E Biggs, son, James Biggs Jr, and her daughter, Marilyn Biggs. Also preceding her in death were her parents, a brother, James Franklin Cook, and two sisters, Minnie Windham and Wilda Harvell.

She married James Biggs on November 1, 1947 shortly after her mother had died. They helped her father raise the five younger siblings that were left without a mother. All of her family looked to her for guidance as she was the mother figure in their lives even after they were adults. James and Blanche made many sacrifices for her siblings, especially the younger ones.

Blanche graduated from Goldthwaite High. She got her LVN license at San Saba Memorial Hospital and went to Mary Hardin Baylor to get her RN license. Her nursing career led her to begin the nursing program at Central Texas College in Killeen. She also worked at Scott and White Hospital in Temple, Brownwood Regional Hospital and San Saba Memorial Hospital. As she worked in supervisory positions most of the time, she encouraged young nurses to be compassionate and not only take care of the patient but the patient's family. She loved caring for others and will be remembered as a kind hearted and loving person. She loved to read and loved going to auctions and buying collectibles and antiques. She was a member of the Church of Christ of Latter Day Saints.

She is survived by her sister, Linda Harvell of San Saba, two brothers, Kenneth Cook of Goldthwaite and J.D. Cook and wife, Shirley, of San Angelo; and one sister-in-law, Ruby Cook of Goldthwaite. Also surviving her are many nieces and nephews including special nieces, Tina Harvell of Bryan and Cindy Rogers and her family Keith, Shelby, Koby, Harley, and Brody Rogers of Hamilton.
